

Denver Investments’ strengthens Fixed Income with portfolio manager, analyst hires

Denver, CO, February 7, 2017 –

Denver Investments announced the addition of a portfolio manager and analyst to its Fixed Income team.

Greg Seals, CFA, joined the firm on January 20th 2017 as a vice president and fixed income portfolio manager. Mr. Seals brings a depth of experience to the team’s portfolio construction and security selection process. He is responsible for a portion of the team’s client portfolio management and service efforts. Mr. Seals comes to Denver Investments with over 25 years of experience, most recently with Braddock Financial and previously with Smith Breeden Associates. Previously, he served as the Director of Fixed Income and Behavioral Finance with the CFA Institute. His expertise includes credit and mortgage analysis, client relationship management, and sales and marketing.

Daofu (Nick) Yu, CFA, joined the team on August 29th 2016 as a credit analyst, focusing on utilities and health care. Prior to joining Denver Investments, Mr. Yu was a portfolio manager and credit analyst at Great West Financial, and a foreign exchange trader at Western Union.

Ken Harris, CFA, Director of Fixed Income Portfolio Management, said, “Our team’s process will no doubt be enhanced by Nick and Greg’s enthusiasm and wisdom. We look forward to their contributions as we continue to build on Denver Investments’ long history of serving our clients.”

About Denver Investments

Since the inception of the firm’s investment management services in 1958, Denver Investments, along with its proprietary family of mutual funds, the Westcore Funds, has provided investment management services to a broad array of individual and institutional investors across a broad range of equity and fixed income styles. The firm offers a variety of well-defined investment strategies based on adding value through fundamental and quantitative research. Denver Investments is 100% employee-owned and based in Denver, Colorado. For more information about Denver Investments, please visit www.denvest.com.

Media Contact: Cindy Knowlton, 303.312.5024, cknowlton@denvest.com